BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Staff Sgt. John McCamley, a native of Scotland, has been in the U.S. Army for eight years. Now he's headed for Viet Nam in less than three weeks.

Before he gets there though, he will become an American citizen.

McCamley was naturalized Thursday at Baton Rouge, La. He has also served in the British and Australian armies.

Kidnap Victim Now Heads Firm

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Nearly 31 years ago George H. Weyerhaeuser was abducted and held for ransom in a sensational kidnaping case in Tacoma, Wash.

He was released a week later after his parents paid $200,000 ransom. Three persons were convicted of the crime.

Weyerhaeuser was nine years old then.

Thursday he was elected president of the Weyerhaeuser Co., a big lumber and wood products firm.

Perry GOPs Lash Out at Van Dalsem

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Republicans in Perry County lashed out at Rep. Paul Van Dalsem Saturday, saying Arkansas 155 which runs by Van Dalsem's farm was not added to the state highway system until 1963.

Van Dalsem, answering Republican charges last week, said the road and a new bridge would serve five recreation lakes to be built as a part of the Fourche River Watershed Project.

The Perry County Republican Committee said the watershed district was not formed until 1965, two years after the road was taken into the state highway system.

The committee also said that four of the lakes are in a different part of the county and that none are within five miles of the highway in question.

"Mr. Van Dalsem stated that the highway joined with a county road to Deberrie where 'eight or ten families' live. By actual count, there are three families residing at Deberrie," the committee said.

"This," the committee said, "is a typical example of the amount of wind behind a Van Dalsem statement."

The GOP newspaper, the Arkansas Outlook, printed an article last week charging that the bridge and road were more examples of what they termed political favoritism in the state highway department.

"Mr. Van Dalsem wants the voters of Pulaski County to think he gets a lot of 'stuff,'" the Perry County committee said. "After 26 years of his representation, Perry County has more of nothing than any county in the state. This is 'stuff' alright."

Van Dalsem must run in the 22nd District which was redistricted last year to include Pulaski and Perry counties. Van Dalsem says he will file for Position 13 in the district Tuesday.

Business Has Learned How to Evade LBJ

By JOHN T. CUNIFF
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The dramatic encounter in recent months over wage-price guideposts seemingly always have ended in victory for the administration and defeat — and price rollbacks — for business.

But is it so? In the immediate conflict business has been the loser. But there is evidence business learned quickly how to get its way while apparently observing the guidelines.

This has been done by mixing price cuts with price advances, by making increases small, by making no announcements of increases, by dealing with customers individually, by maintaining the old price list but putting more of the transportation burden on the buyer and by eliminating discounts.

In addition, an attempt at a price or wage increase, publicly announced, has a good chance of attracting no reprisal from Washington. The administration has been selective. Some increases get by.

Early in March, U.S. Steel Co. boosted prices on a big tonnage item, steel plate, by an average of $2.92 a ton. At the same time it cut prices on another product it said could be substituted.

U.S. Steel called the net result of "standoff." And Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, commented:

"In the Council's judgment, relative price adjustments can contribute to economic efficiency when they take place within a framework of price stability."

But was it a standoff? Although the increase — decrease arrangement could confuse an electronic computer — U.S. Steel tossed away its price lists for some nails and a type of wire rod and decided to negotiate prices instead — some observers now feel the full impact was an increase. For one thing, the increase in the total price of steel caused by U.S. Steel's price rise seems to be of the same magnitude as would have been caused by Bethlehem Steel Co. abortive attempt to raise prices Jan. 1.

For another, the price decrease on sheet steel — which U.S. Steel hoped could be made without the purchase of costly new machinery by the buyer.

Wages also have gone beyond the guideposts. The Labor Department said major 1965 wage increases averaged 3.9 per cent, the highest since the guideposts were established.

Some evidence exists, then to suggest that the power of the guideposts isn't as dramatic as exhibited in the dramatic rollback of prices in aluminum and steel.

The effect, in fact, may be more psychological than actual. Next: Criticism. Sam Dawson is on vacation.

Whatever Happened to the TV That Kept Folks Up at Night Watching Late Shows

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Whatever happened to television?

I remember when it was the talk of America. Everybody used to come to work hollow-eyed from staying up late the night before watching it.

Nobody I know talks much about television anymore. All those over 40 seem to see nothing but old movies on it.

As for its annual new programs, they don't appear to have much impact. They flower and fade and blow away like dandelion pods.

Industry thumbsuppers say that last February television viewing reached an all-time high when 54 million households had their sets tuned in for an average of six hours and 28 minutes a day.

Whatever happened to television? Pretty much, I'm afraid, what producer David Selznick told me a dozen years ago would happen to it.

"Television is for people who want something for nothing," he said. "It will become a mush factory. Hollywood will use it as a dumping ground for B-grade, and go on to make finer pictures for the theaters."

One of the things I churlishly hold against television — although it probably is my own fault — is that my 12-year-old daughter still remembers by heart more deodorant and beer commercials than Mother Goose rhymes.

"It seems to me I have to dust this set off more often than I used to," my wife said the other day. She does. It has become largely another piece of dust catching furniture.

There isn't a single program that our entire family watches together regularly anymore. As far as I am concerned the only great thing about television is its coverage of football. In that it is matchless.

But the rest of the year, from New Year's Day until September, I don't find much reason for turning it on except to see whether Lawrence Welk has hired a new bassoon player. It is all too sodden, gummy and tasteless.

What happened to television? It went thataway!

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Oh, the waste of it all! No fewer than 48 television series are shuffling off the networks this season, a record.
This throws hundreds of actors out of work and corporations into panic — three big studios suffered a total loss of 17 series. Millions of dollars are lost, since many series fail to show a profit on the first run. They need a few years of production and reruns to break even.
Is there a solution to this waste? There is, and it is offered by that astute observer of the television scene, Caroline Thomas.
Miss Thomas is 7, and she was upset to learn that two of her favorite shows, "Gidget" and "The Patty Duke Show" are going off the air.

Beautiful leather bags, spacious yet small-scaled, will play an important role in fashion this season. The handsome grained leather bag (above) combines cool white with hot and pastel pinks and yellows and has a white bamboo handle. It is a Saber design. are going off the air. "Why can't Gidget move in with Patty Duke?" she suggested.

A brilliant suggestion. Shows could be spared the ax by combining with others for double the viewing enjoyment. Or triple, since Tammy would be an ideal companion for Patty and Gidget.

Ben Casey and Dr. Kildare could go into practice together. The Addams family could take up residence with the Munsters, or vice versa, and scare the dickens out of each other.

A combination of the Loner, Jesse James, the Man called Shenandoah and the chaps from "Branded" and "Rawhide" could wipe the Ponderosa off the map.

There isn't a case that could not be solved by a detective agency staffed by Honey West, Henry Phyle, Secret Agent and Blue Light. Hazel could get a job with Ozzie and Harriet. Mister Roberts and McHale's Navy could climb aboard the Wackiest Ship in the Army.

Caroline and I have not yet figured out what to do with My Mother the Car, Mona McClusky, O.K. Crackerby, John Forsythe and Hank. But then the networks couldn't, either.

Science Project Awards — For Parents?
Dear Helen: Do any other parents have Science Project Blues? About this time of year come the Science Exhibits at schools. Guess who has been knocking who's brains out for months? Guess who has hounded Sally or Johnny into action, gone out and scrounged all the parts, master-minded the construction, lotted the finished product to school (usually it takes a truck) and helped set it up without breaking the main gismo that connects with the auxiliary thingamabob? Parents, that is who!

For five years now (With three kids) I have gone through the Science Project caper and I'm here to state these extra (but required) home projects teach the average child little but that good ol' Dad and Mom will move mountains (sometimes literally, if he chooses to build an ant colony) to win him an 'onorable mention.

Maybe Science Fairs are fun to visit, but the old folks should get the awards — for perseverance, patience, and not popping their lids when Science paraphernalia overflows every room in the house and even gets into the food, like when our son did a study on animal hair. — Pooped Projector

Dear P.P.: You too: Animal hair is the current Science project at our house, and I'd surely appreciate it if you can offer a suave way to approach a zoo keeper. We can't quite whomp up the nerve to ask, "Please sir may we have some clippings from your wild life?" He'd probably say "Sure, help yourself," just before he calls the park policeman.

Last term it was a life-sized cross section of the Human Body, with red, orange, blue and purple innards of plastic foam, plus yard of rubber tubing for the small intestines. I chased all over town tracking down material and suffered along with Suzie when the paint she'd borrowed turned the heart purple. (Also our table!)

But what really tore it was the night she marched into the kitchen where we were entertaining guests (in the only open area left to us).

"Kathy stole half my guts to make her op art picture!" she proclaimed loud and clear. And how do you explain THAT to people who haven't yet gone the Science Project route?

Meanwhile a mother down the street had worse trouble. She put her son's Sci. Pro. meat mold outdoors because the stench was running her out of the house and their dog ate it.

"Tommy was just sick about it," she said. "So was our dog!" And then there is our friend who went to a welding shop and asked for a toy balloon full of helium gas. "That kind of thing doesn't do much for your status," he observes, "Even if you explain it's for experimental purposes. You get raised eyebrows."

Yep, come to think of it, "Pooped Projector," we parents deserve the awards. But give the projects points for testing family solidarity. If you live through one and everybody still speaks, believe me, you house is built upon a rock! — H.

Squeaking Wheel Or Squealing Heel?

Dear Helen: I'm disgusted with the way things are run at our office. The office manager plays favorites, and the good looking dames get away with murder — 20 minute coffee breaks and flirting all over the place with their tight, short dresses and knobby knees. The things I could TELL, but I complained once and just got a brush-off type pat on the shoulder. The boss says they're doing their jobs well and he doesn't want to hear about office gossip. I'm not, jealous but I could sure tell HIM, etc., etc., etc. (for three pages). — Squeaking Wheel

Dear "Squealing Heel": Quiet down! The squeaking wheel doesn't always get the grease. Sometimes she gets the old oil — just before she gets the boot, — H.

State Symphony Plans Appearances

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Symphony Orchestra will make three appearances here today, the first of a series, of adult and children's concerts, which will be presented in 15 Arkansas cities in the next year.

Vasillos Priakos, musical director, said the orchestra would give concerts at three schools: in Little Rock and Sylvan Hills. The orchestra will present three concerts at Pine Bluff on May 1.

Other concerts will be performed between now and May 30, 1967, at El Dorado, Hot Springs, Jonesboro, Fort Smith, Fayetteville, Springdale, Camden, Texarkana, Blytheville, Forrest City, Conway, Russellville, Batesville and Harrisonville. Priakos estimates about 120,000 adults and young people will attend the series of concerts.

BACKACHE & TENSION SECONDARY TO KIDNEY IRRITATION

Bonanza in Atlanta...

ATLANTA, Ga.—(NEA)—This is the case of William C. Bartholomay versus the people of Milwaukee.

(An athletic figure, looking younger than 37 years, though his carefully coiffed long brown hair has swirls of gray, Bill Bartholomay is the chairman of the board of the Atlanta Braves. That's a fancy title for the boss man.)

Now then, Mr. Bartholomay, state your plea.

"Our side of the story has never been told. I don't think there ever was a better case for moving a franchise. Milwaukee is the only city I've ever heard of in which the local citizens never expressed the desire to buy a big league team. I can't imagine no one in New York wanting the Yankees."

"Are we to take it that no Milwaukee group ever made an offer to buy the Braves?"

"We had offers from other cities. I heard about Milwaukee but never had a direct offer made."

"Why did you get disenchanted with playing in Milwaukee?"

"There was no interest in commercial sponsorship. It was a declining sports area. Milwaukee lost its PGA tournament, Marquette's out of football. The basketball Hawks moved to St. Louis. Only in recent years have the Green Bay Packers been supported."

"Now Bill — may we call you Bill?—Bartholomay nods— as the president of three big corporations and a director of three others — it's normal to survey a venture before moving into it. When the Braves were acquired by your group in 1962, why wasn't the situation in Milwaukee thoroughly investigated?"

"You don't buy a ball club that way. We had to raise $6.5 million in two and a half weeks or it would have gone to some other city. I felt the major decline of interest in Milwaukee was due to absentee ownership. The Perinis lived in Framingham, Mass. Now I wasn't born on the corner of Wisconsin and Third Street, but my family has always lived in Lake Geneva, Wis., and I was raised there. Our hope was that after we got the club, eight to 10 Milwaukee investors would go in with us. We never got any, and after we made a public stock offer, at the same price we bought it, there was no interest."

"When did you decide to leave?"

"The decision to move was made in October, 1964. We had lost a million and a half the first two years. A lot of that can be used for tax write-off, but not all. We kept our losses down by selling $400,000 worth of ballplayers—fellows like Roy McMillan and Ron Hunt. I wish we had that Hunt now."

"Then you felt no obligation as an owner to stay in Milwaukee?"

"I feel this about a baseball owner's job—in the first place, he's not going to win any popularity contest. He's obligated to put the best possible team on the field. He has no obligation to go bust in the community. If he can't make it, he should offer it to local interests."

"Why, then, were not the people of Milwaukee appraised that the Braves could be bought?"

"In retrospect, I should have said something like that. I'll say this even now. I'd rather break even in Milwaukee than make a million elsewhere. But baseball is not for widows and orphans. It's a business up to the break-even point. I've never made 10 cents out of the Braves. The first three years I collected no salary."

"And now?"

"We're a public corporation so you might as well know. I make $25,000. It costs me that much after taxes, to keep two homes here and in Chicago."

"Has it been worth it?"

"As an owner, you live in a goldfish bowl. You've got to take it."

The above deposition was made in Atlanta, Ga., where Bill Bartholomay rode in a position of honor in the Opening Day parade, clasping hands above head in a victory salute. He figures to make a million and a half at the next two years.

Brewer and Palmer in Vegas Playoff

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — There's one thing about golfer Gay Brewer. He doesn't pick on any soft touches in a playoff.

Brewer's opponent in an 18-hole playoff today was a fellow named Arnold Palmer, with whom he tied after the regulation 72 holes Sunday in the $100,000 Tournament of Champions.

One week ago the 34-year-old Gay, from Louisville, Ky., by way of Dallas, Tex., merely faced Jack Nicklaus and Tommy Jacobs at 18 holes after they deadlocked in the famed Masters at Augusta, Ga.

Nicklaus, of course, won with two-under par 70, Jacobs had 72 and Gay 78.

The way I was putting, I'm lucky to get into the playoff this time," said Brewer, who rapidly is becoming a sentimental favorite with golf fans.

Palmer and Brewer met once before under the same conditions and Arnie won in a sudden death test in the West Palm Beach Open in 1959.

With $20,000 at stake for the winner and $12,000 to the runner-up, this was the first playoff in the 14-year history of the tournament here.

Brewer, undisputed leader in the middle rounds, went into Sunday's final 18 holes leading Palmer by five strokes an Will Casper by six.

Palmer, with an eagle three on the fifth hole, cut the margin by three strokes in five holes and going into the final nine was only one shot back of Brewer and Casper was two.

Casper eventually faded to 70 and 285, which was worth $8,000. Palmer finally caught Gay on the 13th hole with a birdie three and went ahead for the first time on the 17th hole, again with a birdie three.

Came the 72nd and final hole. All Arnie needed to win was a par four.

Palmer missed the putt, took a bogey five to Brewer's par—and that's why both were on hand at the par 36-72 Desert Inn Country Club today.

U.S. Open champion Gary Player, who said the 25-mile an hour gusty winds were the worst he ever encountered, shot a 76 for 294.

Nicklaus, who never recovered from his opening round 76, had a 72 for 288 and a tie with Australia's Bruce Crampton and his 74.

Dave Marr, the PGA champion, and former PGA titleholder Bobby Nichols tied at 289 with Frank Beard.

World Record Holder Beat in Shot Put

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Randy Matson got beat in the discus Saturday — his first loss of any kind in college competition — and it shook up the Texas A&M weight star like nobody's business.

The world record-holder in the shot put professed to be at the nail-biting stage because he's also being moved in on by the shot putters, too.

"This Neil Steinhauer (of Oregon) threw the shot 65 feet 3 inches the other day," Matson said solemnly. "I can't seem to reach my form because my injured knee is keeping me from gaining strength in my legs."

"I have been able to throw the shot only 63 feet lately. If I don't do something I'm going to get beat in the shot, too. That would be terrible. I just can't let that happen."

So it's back to the weights where you use your legs regardless of how the knee may feel.

Matson hurt his knee throwing the shot last year — it was nandaged the day he pitched the 16-pound ball 70 feet 7¼ inches for a world record.

He played basketball last winter and strained ligaments in the side of the knee in coming down with a rebound. So he has been unable to do the squat with 350 pounds on his shoulders — the method he uses to build up his legs.

Matson lost the discus to John Cole of Arizona State in the Civilian Relays at Memphis Saturday. Cole pitched the discus 185 feet 8 inches. Matson got only 180 although he had a throw of 191 feet 8¼ inches April 12.

Lakers Wallop Celtics on Their Own Ball Court

By C. C. McGILLICUDDY
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Coach Fred Schaus has changed his thinking now that his Los Angeles Lakers have taken a 1-0 lead over the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association's championship final series.

"Being realistic, I'd have been content to win one of the two games played here," Schaus said after the Lakers upset Boston 133-129 in overtime Sunday at Boston Garden, overcoming an 18-point deficit. "But when you win the first, you get greedy and want the second."

The second game of the best-of-seven series will be played at Boston Tuesday night before the teams switch to the West Coast for the third and fourth games.

Schaus said the importance to the Lakers winning the first game "might be exaggerated." It merely means "That Boston knows it must win one at Los Angeles. However," he added, "if we win the second, then Boston has got some thinking to do."

Boston Coach Red Auerbach agreed that his defending champions "have our work cut out for us."

He was furious over what he considered some questionable calls but conceded "no matter what you say, you can't get it back now."

Auerbach was particularly irked over a goal-tending call on Bill Russell who blocked a shot by Elgin Baylor with 30 seconds left to play in regulation time.

"He gives them a ball game with just one call," said the fuming Auerbach.

Baylor's shot put Los Angeles ahead 121-119 and the best Boston could do was tie before regulation time ran out.

Texan Is Winner of Grand Prix

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — National champion Joe Starkey of Dallas, Tex., drove his red Elva McLaren to speeds of 190 m.p.h. here Sunday in winning the eighth annual Grand Prairie Grand Prix.

Texans swept the competition sponsored by the Sports Car Clubs of America over a 2.6-mile airport track here.

Four Lone Star staters won overall in other races Sunday. They and Starkey took five regional races here Saturday.

Starkey's best lap time was 1:37.9. He and drivers in the first three places in class in four other races received points toward the national championships in SCCA competition.

Starkey was hard pressed by Bill Fuller of Oakdale, La., driving a Merlyn with an engine identical to that driven by Starkey, but a pin in the shift linkage broke after 15 laps, forcing the Louisianian to the pits.

Bob Blenerth of Willoughby Hills, Ohio, driving a Cobra, was second to Starkey at the finish of the 20-lap race. He won A production.

Little League "try-outs" will be held at "K" Park on Monday and Tuesday, April 18 and 19 at 6 p.m.

Nine and ten year olds will try out on Monday night and eleven and twelve year olds on Tuesday night.

All boys in the local area, including surrounding communities, will be eligible to participate in the "try-outs."

All managers and league officials should be present for the "try-outs."

On April 21, at 7 p.m. Player's Draft will be held at the Hope Youth Center.

Horse Trainer, Riders Killed

LEESBURG, Va. (AP) — Engine trouble tentatively was blamed today for the crash of an old P51 fighter plane which took the life of one of the nation's best-known horse trainers and riders, Ben O'Meara.

Officials at Godfrey Airport here said O'Meara, alone in the World War II-vintage Mustang, had refueled and taken off from the airport Sunday only a few moments before the aircraft came near a creek.

O'Meara, 30, reportedly had bought the refurbished plane only six weeks ago and had had it at his "Colony Farm" estate near Middleburg two weeks. He had installed an airstrip at the farm.

Think I Can Pitch

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HARTSHORNE, OKLA.—(NEA)—Perhaps he was thinking of the April day in 1933 when the old Boston Braves opened in Milwaukee where the sidewalks were lined 10 deep and the hands literally clawed past the police as the motorcade proceeded up the street.

Or maybe it was the September day in 1960 when Warren Spahn had 19 wins and was facing the Phillies. He won No. 20 with a 4-0 no-hitter.

Or maybe it was that October afternoon in 1948 with 86 288 watching in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium. The Indians had taken three straight from the Braves and needed one game to win the World Series. Boston used the lefthander that day. The World Series did not end.

There are countless memories like that for Warren Spahn—the day he won his 300th game, the day he became the winningest lefthander in baseball history.

And the day the world's championship came to Milwaukee, a gift for those same people who stood in the streets four years before.

Perhaps all those moments crossed Warren Spahn's mind this spring, the first since 1940 that he was not wearing a baseball uniform.

It hasn't been an easy adjustment for Spahn, a man with intense pride and intense belief in himself.

Last year he was 44 when he finished the season with the San Francisco Giants. But this spring, even though they needed a lefthanded starter, Spahn's name did not appear on the Giants' spring training roster.

Instead, Warren Spahn spent the time on his 2,800-acre cattle ranch in southeast Oklahoma.

"I'm not a cowboy," he said. "I'm a windshield rancher. I just drive around and boss the ranch boss."

It may occupy his time. But not his mind.

"I don't know exactly how I feel," he said. "I've been busy here, but I can't truthfully say I haven't missed it."

"I still think I can pitch. I've been throwing down at the high school with the kids on the team. They get a kick out of it and it keeps me in shape. I weigh less now than I did a year ago."

"I thought maybe I could have caught on with one of the teams that needed pitching help. Now I guess I'll have to wait until they see their strengths and weaknesses. Maybe then I'll get a call. Maybe one of the teams in the pennant race will need some experienced help."

So Warren Spahn waits.

Meanwhile, he supervises the ranch and goes down to the high school for his workouts.

The kids are a little awed every time that right leg kicks high in the air, just the way it did in the newsreels and on television and in the newspapers.

To them — and a lot of others — Warren Spahn's name belongs with Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams and Stan Musial.

All were great athletes, but not all were as stubborn as Warren Spahn who maintains that he can still win in the major leagues at 45.

Warren Spahn won 363 games during his major league career. Only five others have won more.

Who knows, maybe stubbornness accounted for 30 or 40 of those wins.

Arkansas in a Tie for League Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Albuquerque, N.M. — The Texas League through its first three days and it's most humiliating to El Paso, Dallas-Fort Worth and Austin.

Austin isn't quite as humiliated as El Paso and Dallas-Fort Worth because it got help from the weather Sunday and couldn't lose three in a row like the others.

Albuquerque made it three in succession over El Paso with a 5-4 triumph Sunday. Amarillo, which couldn't beat anybody much last season, won its third consecutive game over Dallas-Fort Worth with a 3-2 decision Sunday.

Arkansas had beaten Austin two in a row but rain kept the Travelers from playing the Braves Sunday.

Cleo James' double and Roy Gleason's single brought in the winning run in the eighth Sunday to give Albuquerque its victory and spoil El Paso's home opener. Mel McGavock's tight relief pitching—he allowed only two hits over the last 3 1-3 innings—was a big factor.

For the third straight game Amarillo pitching allowed Dallas-Fort Worth only four hits and the Spurs had gone 21 innings but had to have help from Ron Cayll to get the decision.

Elijah Johnson got two hits to make his total 8 in 12 times at bat for the three games. The Sonic slugger had 2 doubles, 4 singles and 2 homers.

The clubs play again at El Paso, Austin and Amarillo tonight.

May Decide Graustark's Opposition

By CARLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
Three horse races Saturday, two worth $100,000 and the other $75,000 in added money, will go a long way toward determining the opposition for favor J Graustark when the 3-year-olds lineup for the 92nd running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs May 7.

The 100 grand races are the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct and the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie, Md. The $75,000 affair is the California Derby at Golden Gate Fields. The Wood and California Derby are at 1 mile, the Gold Cup at 1 1/8 as compared to the 1 1/4 miles of the Kentucky Derby.

The Forerunner, at seven furlongs and with much less value, will be run at Keeneland Friday.

Then, with two weeks to go before the big one at Churchill Downs, there'll remain only three major races for Derby hopefuls to prove their worthiness to take on the unbeaten Graustark.

One is the 1 mile of the Blue Grass April 28 at Keeneland in which Graustark is scheduled to get his final prep. The others are the seven-furlong Stepping Stone at Churchill Downs April 30 and the one mile Derby Trial May 3.

Graustark is more firmly entrenched than ever as the favorite. He chalked up his seventh victory of an injury-plagued career last Saturday when he won the seven-furlong Spendthrift Purse by nearly four lengths in ordinary 3:22 1/5 at Keeneland.

Cabildo, for whom Mrs. Joe W. Brown paid $175,000 in February, was second. Cabildo is likely to take another crack at Graustark in the Blue Grass. Abe's Hope, disqualified out of first in the Florida Derby, also is in Kentucky waiting for his Blue Grass.

Here's how the Saturday's races line-up:

Wood—Wheatley Stable's Stupendous, a three-quarter-length victor over stablemate Impressive in last Saturday's one mile Gotham, will be back. Trainer Eddie Nely said, however, that Stupendous will not start in the Derby regardless of what he does in the Wood. "He is not the type that can stand so many hard races so close together," Nely said. The opposition is expected to come from those who trailed in the Gotham—Understanding, a fast closing fourth; Indulto, the favorite who wound up fifth; and perhaps Sub Call, Buffle and Sky Guy.

Governor's Gold Cup—Impressive will take on Kauai King and Quinta and needs a big race to get into the Derby, Nely said. Kauai King is a two-time stakes winner this year. Quinta had impressive in the Bay Shore with a 14-pound weight advantage but lost twice to the swiftness when the weight were nearer level.

California Derby—Postage is the top one here and a good performance definitely will put him in the Kentucky Derby. He won easily in the mile time of 1:35 2/5 in his last start.

There were two major disappointments in last Saturday's feature races—Moccasin and Lucky Debonair.

Moccasin, unbeaten in eight races en route to Horse of the Year and the 2-year-old filly titles last year, dropped her second decision in eight days, finishing sixth as Justakiss took the $30,050 Ashland Stakes at Keeneland.

Lucky Debonair, 1965 Kentucky Derby winner and a leading candidate for the handicapper division crown, turned in the worst performance of his career. He was last in a 10 horse field in the $114,600 Campbell Handicap at Bowie. Tostmah, $20.20, won by a nose.

Youths Put on Show at Wilmington

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — While the champions were out in Las Vegas, professional golf youngsters got together at Wilmington and put on quite a show of their own.

Bert Yancey, a husky blond from Philadelphia, withstood the pressure applied by other victory-starved hopefuls and came through with his initial tour triumph Sunday. He won the Azalea Open with a closing 68, four under par, for a 278 total.

He was one shot in front of Bob Johnson, three ahead of Dave Marad, and four ahead of Tom Weiskopf. Each of them also was aiming for his first triumph. Yancey won $3,200 of the $22,800 purse, more than he had won all year. In recent weeks the 27-year-old Yancey's game has been coming back to the form he flashed last year when he won $22,000 and finished 44th on the official money list.

"I'd been swinging too high on my backswing, but I made some adjustments and have been playing better," he said in looking back on his rounds of 74-69-67-68.

Johnson closed with 67, five under par for the 6,744-yard Cape Fear Country Club course. His earnings for second place was $2,100. He'd won only $812 before this year.

Yancey had started the round tied for the lead with Weiskopf and Larry Beck. A 73 finish was Beck's fate as he slipped to 283 to tie Al Besselink and Dick Lytle for fifth place, each winning $1,106.

Baseball's South Barrier Is Broken

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA (AP) — Baseball's Mason-Dixon barrier has been breached, but the South still has some scores to settle with those pesky Northerners.

The invading Pittsburgh Pirates ruined a perfect day for the South by nipping Atlanta's newly adopted Braves 3-2 in 13 innings Tuesday night.

The Braves lost despite the backing of a crowd of 50,871, biggest home turnout ever for the club which started in Boston, moved to Milwaukee and then swept into Dixie.

"The South shall rise again," the electric scoreboard repeated — And repeated and repeated as the game dragged into extra innings and thousands of fans headed for home.

Joe Torre, the Brave with the Brooklyn accent, did his best to help Atlanta live up to the slogan, but his two home runs weren't enough to start successfully the South's romance with big league baseball.

"That was a damn tough way to lose a ball game, especially after the wonderful reception we have gotten here," said Manager Bobby Bragan, who said he had no second thoughts about leaving Tony Cloninger on the mound all the way in the National League opener for both teams.

Cloninger, a 24-game winner for the Braves in Milwaukee last year, struck out 12 and yielded only one run — an eighth inning homer by Jim Pagnaroni — before a fatal toss that spoiled what had been a perfect day.

With Roberto Clemente on first base, Cloninger tossed a high curve to Willie Stargell in the top of the 13th, and the Pittsburgh outfielder rapped it over the right field barrier.

Torre, who belted a pitch into the stands in the fifth, did it again in the bottom of the 13th but the bases were empty both times.

Part of the Braves' problems were caused by fastballing Bob Veale, who limited Atlanta to only five hits before he tired in the ninth and walked the bases full. Elroy Face came in and got the Pirates out of that jam, and then on Schwall limited the Braves to only three hits in the extra innings and was given the victory.

"Ya'll come back, heah now!" the scoreboard said, reminding Southerners that the Braves will try again tonight.

Detroit Has Edge in the Hockey Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit's turnabout play against the Chicago Black Hawks in the Stanley Cup playoffs became complete Sunday when Norm Ullman joined the party in a 5-3 victory and a commanding position in the series.

The triumph gave Detroit a 3-2 edge in the best-of-seven semifinals series which the Wings can wind up at home Tuesday night. If not, the teams return to Chicago for game No. 7 Thursday with the winner advancing to the finals against Montreal.

"We should win it now unless we fall flat on our faces," said Detroit Coach Sid Abel. "We don't have any injuries, the boys are playing well and even Normie has found he can score against Chicago."

Throughout the regular National Hockey league season, the Hawks battered the Wings with a record of 11 victories, one defeat and two ties.

Volcano Again Posing Threat

MANILA (AP) — Mt. Taal, the island volcano 40 miles south of Manila which killed an estimated 500 persons last September, is threatening to blow its top again, the Philippines' chief volcanologist said today.

Arturo Alcaraz, the volcano expert, said scientists stationed at the volcano have recorded rising temperatures and occasional tremors accompanied by rumbling noises, indicating Mt. Taal is in a "critical state of eruption."

SWC Track Meet May Set Records

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A close battle among Southern Methodist, Texas and Rice is indicated in Southwest Conference track on the basis of times and distances to date.

The annual meet will be held at Austin May 6-7 and there are more than a half-dozen meets to be participated in before the conference championships.

Southern Methodist will be in a five-way meet at Abilene Saturday. Abilene Christian, North Texas State, Houston and Arlington State are the other teams.

Baylor, Texas A&M and Texas Tech hook up in a triangular at Lubbock Saturday. Arkansas, Rice and Texas will be in the Kansas Relays at Lawrence, Kan.

Four conference records already have been bettered this season. Richard Romo of Texas has run the mile in 4:06.2, which is 4.3 seconds under the record. Mark King of Texas has vaulted 16 feet 1/2 inch to better the record of 16-0.

Rice's mile relay team has done 3:09.6, which is 1.1 under the record. Preston Davis of Texas has run the three-mile in 14:33.1, which is 18.3 under the record.

The season bests in other events have been:
440 relay—Southern Methodist, 40.6.
440—Jim Bankhead, Southern Methodist, 47.0.

100—Gil Smith, Texas A&M, 9.4.
High hurdles—Jerry Utecht, Southern Methodist, 14.0.
880—Preston Davis, Texas, 1:50.2.
220—Gil Smith, Texas A&M, 21.1.

440 hurdles—Jerry Utecht, Southern Methodist, 52.9.
Shot—Randy Matson, Texas A&M, 65-10.
Discus—Randy Matson, Texas A&M, 191-6 1/2.

Javelin—Ricki Jacobs, Rice, 231-10 1/2.
High jump—Larry Wood, Texas Christian, and Mike Schrider, Texas A&M, 6-6.
Broad jump—Ricki Smith, Baylor, 24-3.

Equally unbelievable was Chicago's ability to hold high-scoring Ullman to no goals and only two assists in the 14 games. Even in the first four playoff games while the Wings were outscoring Chicago 14-5, Ullman was held without a goal.

But he more than made up for it Sunday with a pair of goals and an assist in what Abel called "the key game of the series."

Ghana Wants Aid in Agriculture

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Emmanuel N. Omaboe, head of a team of economic advisers to the new Ghanaian regime, has called on the U.S. Agency for International Development to help revolutionize Ghana's agriculture.

Omaboe said obstacles which the AID mission suffered because of ex-President Kwame Nkrumah's "lack of support and encouragement have all been swept away."

Clay Signs to Fight British Heavyweight

CHICAGO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, aiming for another fight before his possible induction in the Army, has signed to meet Britain's Henry Cooper.

Clay, who is appealing his 1-A draft status, signed an agreement in Chicago Saturday night to meet Cooper, the British heavyweight champion since 1959.

Cooper lost to Clay in 1963 when he was stopped in five rounds but gained the distinction of being the only man to floor the champion when he decked the Louisville Lip with a left hook.

Clay has a guarantee of $250,000 against a 50 per cent cut of the live gate. There is no return clause in the agreement which will become a formal contract when signed by Cooper this week.

The fight is expected to be held in the Arsenal soccer stadium which seats about 60,000 and televised via Early Bird Satellite to his rest of Europe and the United States.

Cooper, 32, returned to ring attention this year with a pair of victories over American fighters. He stopped Hubert Hilton in two rounds and knocked out Jefferson Davis in one round.

Clay, 24, is undefeated in 23 professional bouts. He scored a 15-round decision over George Chuvalo of Canada in Toronto last month.

Pilic Default Gives Win to Australian

HOUSTON (AP) — Nicola Pilic, faced with suspension from Yugoslavia's Davis Cup team, defaulted to Marty Mulligan of Australia Sunday in the championship men's singles match of the 32nd River Oaks Tennis Tournament.

Pilic had to leave Houston only an hour after he defaulted, in order to make plane connections to today's one flight to Yugoslavia. He explained he would be dropped from his country's Davis Cup team if he did not arrive in Zagreb, Yugoslavia, today.

Mulligan, the world's 10th-ranked player, had never won a major tournament by default before. "It's a funny way to win," the stocky Australian said with a grin.

When he withdrew, Pilic was within four points of victory. He won seven consecutive games, stretching through the first game of the final set, and never trailed in the final set as he maintained serve along with his opponent.

Pilic advanced to the finals here by whipping second-seeded Tony Roche of Australia.

Mulligan, however, upset the No. 1 River Oaks' seed, Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., in the quarter-finals, and already had won three tournaments this year. Mulligan got to the finals by defeating Boro Jovanovic, another Yugoslavian.

THE WELL CHILD
Children Will Usually Outgrow Night Terrors
BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A mother writes that her 4-year-old son awakens at night screaming and shaking. He is otherwise healthy. She wonders whether these spells could be a result of his having had convulsions when he was smaller.

Night terrors are seen most often in children who are between ages 3 and 8. The spells come on an hour or two after the child goes to sleep and cause him to sit up, break out in a sweat, scream and tremble. Although he clutches his mother or whoever comes to him he does not recognize persons or his surroundings for several minutes.

These attacks usually occur in children who are nervous, highstrung or in poor health but I doubt that one could prove that they originated in previous convulsive seizures.

When the child is fully awakened the mother should try to get him to talk about what was frightening him, then reassure him that everything is all right. If the attacks recur frequently she should try to see that his waking hours are spent in calmer surroundings.

Children usually outgrow these night terrors but then, like the rest of us, they may still have an occasional nightmare. Nightmares are much less intense. They may cause a child to whimper or cry out in his sleep without awakening or sitting up in bed. If a nightmare does awaken a child he knows where he is and recognizes the fact that he was dreaming.

Q—My son, 15, has Scheurmann's disease. What causes this? Is it serious? What is the treatment?
A—Epiphysitis (inflammation of the growth center of a bone) takes several forms. The cause is unknown. When it affects the vertebrae it is called Scheurmann's disease.

Credit unions (organized groups of people who save their money together and make low-cost loans to each other) are on the rise. There are more than 28,000 of them, located mostly in the United States and Canada, although they had their origins more than 100 years ago in Germany and Italy. There are more than 15 million member-owners with $6 billion in assets.

The nothing play is a play that can lose but can't possibly win. Most nothing plays result from a player not knowing that he is going slightly out of his way to risk the loss of a trick. Sometimes these tricks are not too important except that every trick means something and the player who makes a habit of losing unimportant tricks will find himself losing important tricks also. Six no-trump is the perfect contract for North and South. Between the combined hands they hold the ace and king of three suits and six or seven tricks in diamonds depending on whether South has to lose a trick to the missing king. The East and West cards aren't shown because they have no real importance here. The only thing we are interested in is to see if you readers know how to avoid the nothing play with this card combination. We will start by telling you that this situation calls for a finesse. If you bang your ace and try to drop a singleton king you are taking a very poor line of play. You gain a trick if East holds the singleton king. You lose a trick if West holds a singleton ten or deuce or is void. Is that the nothing play? No, it isn't! South's correct play is to lead the queen from his hand. He plans to finesse if the queen is not covered. The nothing play is to lead low from his hand. The difference is that if West holds all three missing diamonds the queen play gives South all the tricks. The play of a low diamond holds him to his contract. Actually the low play followed by a finesse is better than the try for a drop but it is still a nothing play. The drop play is just a bad one.

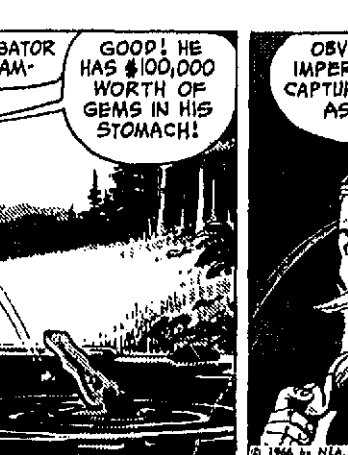

Q—You, South, are the dealer. You hold:
♠ K Q J 7 6 ♥ A K ♦ 2 ♣ A Q 10 9 8
What do you bid?
A—One club. You don't have quite enough for an opening two bid but you do have enough to want another chance and there is far less chance to be passed out at one club than to be passed out at one spade.

For the Young, This Music Is Simply the Pulse of Life

By PHILIP WERDELL
Moderator Magazine

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Parents, not their children, are worried about the "generation gap." They used to be troubled by why Johnny can't read; now they wonder why they can't talk to Johnny.

It would be helpful if they would listen—not to Johnny, for certainly they are trying, but to what Johnny listens to. Records. Radio. Television, when it turns to popular songs. There are a number of not-so-subtle messages in the new pop music.

Pop music continues to live on a diluted form of jazz. It is diluted to be easy to understand, but it still has the rhythmic vitality which is the key to its popularity.

But the simplistic rock 'n' roll of Elvis Presley is out. Evolving is a form of music which is lyrically, musically and emotionally more sophisticated. The young listener—whether the cause or the effect of the new pop music—is also more mature.

When Harvard social scientist David Riesman was out studying youthful fans of popular music in the early 1950s, he found that young people could not talk about the music they so ardently listened to. "The vocabulary used to talk about (popular) music was . . . 'swell,' 'lousy,' 'I go for that,' and so on." Not so today.

Sometimes, even before they reach high school, student conversations are about the new variations of the Mersey beat, the ideas of a recent Bob Dylan hit, "soul" of the Motown (Motor Town, for Detroit) sound with its first "pop beat blues." Pop music and its youthful fans are coming of age.

The new pop music has thrown out the repetition of simple choruses, over and over and over; the new pop music has discarded the naive romantic lyrics of "Will I ever find the girl in my mind, the girl who is my ideal?" and "Love me tender, love me true." It has left behind the complete self-pity of crying in the chapel; and, most importantly, the new pop music has obtained both a sense of feeling and a sense of humor. Parents' opinions to the contrary, none of this is beyond the new pop audience of youth.

The rhythm of pop music must be repetitious; to the energetic and alienated youth of today, this is their pulse of life. This does not mean, however, that the music is necessarily monotonous.

New Era in Long Range Aviation

By JOHN T. CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — A new era in long distance aviation will be ushered in by the end of the 1960s, carried at 45,000 feet on the wings of jets seating up to 490 passengers, some in staterooms.

Pan American World Airways Wednesday ordered 25 Boeing 747s at a cost of $525 million, a figure the companies said represented the largest commercial aviation order ever placed.

The new craft is expected to sharply cut the cost of air travel. Juan Trippe, Pan Am chairman, said cargo and passenger costs would be reduced as much as 35 per cent.

The 747, about 2 1/2 times the size of today's largest jet, will cruise at 633 miles an hour, 10 per cent faster than present cruising speeds. It is subsonic—flying at less than the speed of sound.

When completed, the aircraft could become immediately competitive with maritime shipping in transporting some cargoes from continent to continent. But the announcement heralded also a future day of greater competition for the domestic passenger with rail and highway transportation.

The impact of the order, on which deliveries will begin in September 1969, was vast. Trans World Airlines, the only other United States transoceanic carrier, said it too is considering the Boeing 747.

The enormous plane will carry 214,000 pounds of freight, a capacity double that of existing planes. It will be the first plane capable of handling "highway size" shipping containers which have become standard on ships, rails and trucks.

Believes in Death Bed Premonition

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — A Duke University psychiatrist says he has found evidence that the fatally ill may have a premonition of death.

Dr. Adrian Verwoerd theorizes these patients, subconsciously, are aware of when their deaths will occur.

His conclusion is based on a year-long study involving 30 persons, 22 of whom died.

A notion that hope is important in prolonging life for the fatally ill, established in another study, led Dr. Verwoerd to suspect a direct relationship between survival time and how far a person looks ahead.

The patients were asked if if they lived on a day-to-day basis, or if they looked ahead one week, one month or as much as six to 12 months. They were not asked when they thought they would die.

"The ones who died early by and large had said they looked ahead one week or a month," he reported. "And those who died later said they had looked ahead six to 12 months."

The study group had an average age of 48 years. All the patients were aware of varying degrees that their illnesses were serious or even critical.

1 Turkey: Poverty 2 Means Living Buffalo Saved

The difference between socialistic government and the free enterprise system is simply this:

Government sees a man starving and gives him a turkey for Christmas so he can eat; but private business stakes him to two turkeys - the makings of a ranch and a living out of other people's eating.

Conservationists and all the lovers of God's Great Outdoors won a significant victory this past week-end when the U. S. Corps of Engineers announced its abandonment of plans to build the Gilbert Dam on Buffalo River.

Which means that the conservationists have won their fight to retain the Buffalo as a free-running wild river shortly to be incorporated into a national park. And a great victory it is for the public. The Buffalo is reputed to be one of the most beautiful mountain rivers in North America, a place where tourists can see nature in the rough and at its scenic best. And income from increased tourist traffic through Buffalo National Park, soon to be a reality, will be vastly greater than any possible benefits from merely another dam.

Our congratulations to the Army Engineers for wisely bowing to an aroused public opinion and killing the ill-fated Gilbert project.

2,000 Acres in Ouachita Forest Burns

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—About 325 firefighters brought under control early today seven fires in the Ouachita National Forest which burned about 2,000 acres of timberland.

John T. Koen, supervisor of the forest, said the huge fire spread from six small ones spotted early Sunday, four of which, he said, had apparently been set deliberately.

The U. S. Forest Service here reported today that cloudy sky conditions and high humidity provided some relief, even though little rain fell on the forest overnight.

The service estimated that Sunday's acreage brought to about 2,500 acres of timberland destroyed by fire this year in national forests.

Ranger Art Cowley said two tanker planes from Fort Smith dropped eight loads of chemical retardant on the flames Sunday but failed to stop the fire. Bulldozers were brought into the area to bring the blaze under control.

The state Forestry Commission said today that 57 fires burned over 1,668 acres around the state Sunday, bringing the April total to 1,057 fires and 4,529 acres.

Most of the acreage was in the Malvern and Fordyce areas. Ten fires destroyed 363 acres near Malvern and five fires burned over 264 acres near Fordyce.

The commission said so far this year 2,324 fire shaves destroyed 106,975 acres of timberland in the state.

There was no report of fires in the state this morning.

Scientists Excited Over Discovery

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Two Cornell University scientists, with obvious excitement, today reported a possible "major scientific breakthrough" towards protecting humans and animals against lethal doses of radiation such as might be released in nuclear warfare. They reported they've developed a kind of vaccine - from chemical derived from the oriental, weedlike "jackbean" plant - and that it immunizes a large majority of mice against such doses, in much the same way a person is inoculated against an infectious disease. They said it could open the way not only to protecting whole populations months in advance against the effects of radioactive fallout from exploding nuclear bombs in time of war,

Conviction on Murder Count Is Reversed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court today reversed a second-degree murder conviction for a jail cell death because of testimony that the accused had "Metal knucks" and a pistol on him when he was arrested.

The ruling means that Raymond I. Long, who drew a 12-year prison sentence on the conviction, will get a new trial.

Long was charged in the death of Hervey Henley, who was fatally beaten in the city jail at Morrilton.

The beating occurred shortly after Long was jailed for drunkenness.

During the trial, the prosecution obtained testimony that Long was carrying a pistol and metal knucks when he was arrested. The Supreme Court said this testimony should not have been permitted.

There was no testimony that these weapons figured in the slaying, the Supreme Court said, and the testimony improperly insinuated that Long was an argumentative, combative individual.

The Supreme Court affirmed a one-year jail sentence and $500 fine imposed by Craighead Circuit Court on Herbert Weist in the Nov. 1, 1964, traffic death of Don Taylor Gazaway.

The court affirmed a Faulkner Chancery Court ruling that a contract between Mr. and Mrs. Monroe A. Taylor and the Certain-Teed Products Corp. should not be voided because it was alleged to be usurious.

The contract involved $6,360 for some real estate. The Taylors signed one note for $8,604 and another for $2,970 with payment to be made over a 12-year period.

The Supreme Court said that the interest over 12 years did not amount to more than the legal maximum of 10 per cent.

Prairie Circuit Court was affirmed in its award of $10,000 to Sam and Lucy Vaught for 1.7 acres of land taken by the Arkansas Highway Department for right-of-way.

In a Saline County case, the Supreme Court directed Saline Chancery Court to award Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Lane $4,517 for damages incurred because a house they bought from Marshall L. Rachel was improperly constructed.

This was the second time the Supreme Court had heard this case. In the first trial, the lower court had refused to give the Lanes damages. The Supreme Court ruled they were entitled to relief and the trial court then awarded them $1,623.

Today's ruling raised that award to the $4,517.

In another case from Saline County, the Supreme Court affirmed a four-month jail sentence assessed against James Rice for violation of the state's hot check law with a $20 check he wrote to Joe Benson.

Woman Killed Near Brinkley

BRINKLEY, Ark. (AP)—Mrs. Maudie Chunn, 71, of Fargo was killed Sunday when she was struck by a car about seven miles north of here on Arkansas 39.

State Trooper Harry Locke reported the fatality today, ending what had appeared to be a weekend trend of highway fatalities in the state.

Locke said Mrs. Chunn attempted to cross the highway just north of Fargo to get a head scarf which had blown across the road.

Locke said she was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Billy Chandler of Brinkley.

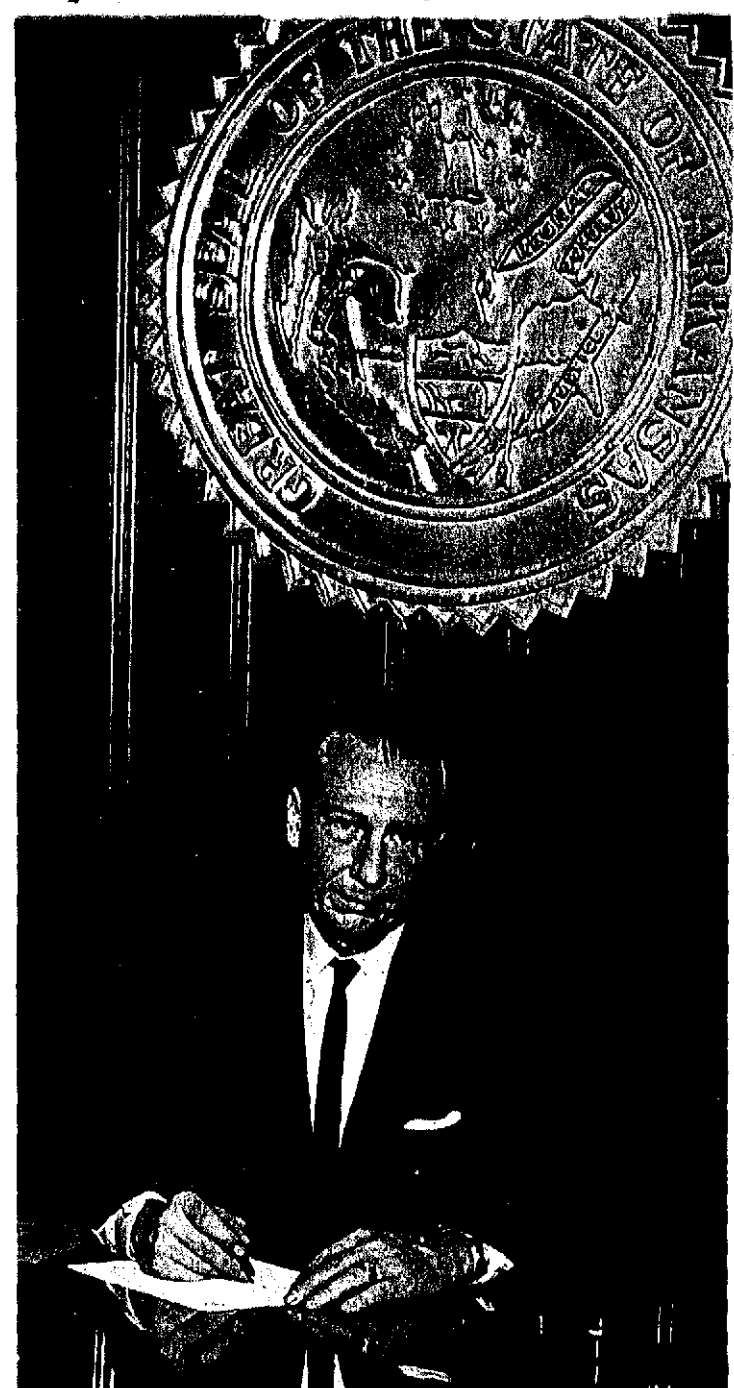

Body Recovered From Old River

HELENA, Ark. (AP)—Rescue units recovered Sunday the body of Donald Ray Latting, 27, of Leachville, from Millwood Old River south of here.

State Trooper Kenneth Winfrey said Latting, Maj. Wayne Clay of Blytheville Air Force Base and John Dickson of Wash had been fishing and their boat overturned as they returned to shore.

The boat flipped over about ¼ mile from the shore, Winfrey said. Clay and Dickson were able to swim to land, he said.

Bryant Is Seeking Re-election

Kelly Bryant

Secretary of State Kelly Bryant filed for re-election today and paid his $500.00 filing fee. Bryant filled out papers in his office, and was the 256th filing that has been processed in his office since January 1st.

In his office at the time of filing were his wife, Elizabeth, daughter, Betty, and members of the Secretary of State's staff. In making his bid for re-election Bryant stated "It has been my strong desire since I have been Secretary of State to make this a 'real service office' to all the people of Arkansas. My staff and I have made every effort to accomplish this objective. We want to continue and where possible, to give even better service in the future."

Traditional and routine duties of the office have changed rapidly over the past few years. New work and responsibility seems to appear at regular intervals, Bryant continued. Reapportionment of State Election Districts and increased supervision of candidate filings are typical examples. Another is the rapid increase in filing of new corporations doing business in Arkansas.

Arkansas Steps on Mine, Killed

MAYFLOWER, Ark. (AP)—Army Sgt. Clarence A. Teas, 23, of Mayflower, was killed in Viet Nam when he stepped on a land mine during patrol duty, the Defense Department said Sunday.

The sergeant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Teas of Mayflower, said their son went to Viet Nam in January and would have completed his second three-year enlistment in August.

State Court Rules Against MOP Request

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled today that Missouri Pacific Truck Lines had failed to prove that additional truck service was needed between Little Rock and El Dorado and Little Rock and McGehee.

In making the ruling, the Supreme Court reversed a Pulaski Circuit Court order, which had, in turn, affirmed an Arkansas Commerce Commission order giving Missouri Pacific authority to serve El Dorado and McGehee out of Little Rock. Justice Ed McFaddin dissented from the majority opinion. He said he agreed that Missouri Pacific should not be allowed to serve El Dorado, but that it should have been permitted to serve McGehee.

The Secretary of State also serves on a number of State Commissions. As Secretary of the Revenue Building Commission, Bryant has witnessed the completion of the Arkansas Revenue Building in the last year, and the acquisition of much property west of the present Capitol grounds, the purchase of which was authorized by the General Assembly for future expansion. The office also offers many enjoyable experiences. Among these are the privilege of being in charge and planning Christmas lighting of the Capitol Building, and being host to the thousands of visitors and school groups that visit the Capitol Building.

Bryant is a graduate of the University of Arkansas with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. He married the former Elizabeth Sutton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sutton of Marianna, Arkansas. They have one daughter, Betty, who is a Senior at the University of Arkansas this year. Bryant is a Methodist and a Rotarian.

Two Garland County Men Die in Wreck

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Two Garland County men were killed early today when their car left Arkansas 270 about three miles west of here and plunged down a 30-foot embankment into Lake Hamilton.

State Trooper Glen Owens identified the victims as Ray E. Parker, 34, and Charles Polard, 21, both employees of Dierks Forest Inc. from Mountain Pine.

The deaths came about 15 minutes after an Associated Press weekend highway death count ended without any reported deaths.

The bodies of the two men were recovered from the lake by members of the Tri-Lakes Recovery Squadron about two hours after the accident.

Mountain View Man Is Killed

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Billy Darrell Barham, 19, formerly of Mountain View, Ark., was killed Saturday night when his car collided head-on with another auto near here.

Two other persons, Mr. and Mrs. Mac G. Boyd of St. Joseph, were killed in the other car, the Missouri Highway Patrol said.

Officers said Barham was en route to St. Joseph after completing Army basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Loyalty Oath Struck Down by U.S. Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court struck down today an Arizona law requiring a loyalty oath of all state employees.

Justice William O. Douglas delivered the 5-4 decision. Justice Byron R. White wrote a dissenting opinion. Justices Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart joined in White's opinion.

The court ruled on an appeal by Mrs. Barbara Elfbrandt, a public school teacher of Tucson who refused to sign the oath. The law says their employees who refuse to sign must be taken off the payroll, although not discharged. Mrs. Elfbrandt has taught for eight years without pay.

She contended the requirement denied her right of free association and free speech. She is a member of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers), but her attorney emphasized before the Supreme Court that the fact was not being argued in the case.

Vernon Elfbrandt, husband of Mrs. Elfbrandt, likewise refused to sign and has taught for eight years without pay. The attack on the state law was brought in her name only.

Estimates were made that if she won the case, the Elfbrandts would likely collect back pay of about $50,000. The former Spokane, Wash., couple have received financial aid from friends and supporters of their beliefs.

State Couple Accused of Selling Child

FAIRBORN, Ohio (AP)—A young Arkansas couple has been charged with illegal placing of a child after attempting to sell their 10-month old daughter to a policeman here Saturday, police said.

Officers identified the couple as James W. Davidson, 25, and his wife, Helen, 23, of Hot Springs, Ark.

The couple was scheduled to stand trial this afternoon in Municipal Court. The baby has been placed in the custody of welfare authorities.

Maximum penalty upon conviction is a $300 fine and six months in the county jail.

Sgt. James Held said he successfully purchased the baby for $100, promising to pay another $100 later.

Officers said the couple was traveling with a carnival and were quoted as saying they could not give the child a proper home and that a carnival was no place to bring up a baby.

Missiles Near Hanoi Smashed by Bombers

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Air Force jets smashed two Soviet-built missile sites on the outskirts of Hanoi in the closest raid yet to the North Vietnamese capital and left two key bridges in ruins, U.S. spokesmen reported today.

Another group of Navy fighter-bombers set off a huge explosion at a suspected missile site 27 miles south of the coastal city of Vinh, 180 miles south of Hanoi, silenced seven nearby anti-aircraft batteries and sank a junk.

Led by target-marking F100 Super Sabre jets in clear afternoon skies, a pack of Air Force supersonic F105 Thunderchiefs began the raid around Hanoi Sunday by hurling 750-pound bombs at a bridge 33 miles south of the capital on the road to the chief port of Halphong.

The span was put out of commission, a spokesman said.

The jets then moved closer to the capital blasting a missile site 15 miles south of the city and another 17 miles southwest with rockets and 20mm cannon fire. A huge explosion rocked one of the missile complexes, a pilot reported. The airman spotted rockets on the launching pads just before they roared in but only one missile was set up. It missed.

Development Group Names New Officers

The Hempstead County Development Council elected officers for the new year at their last meeting. Following is a list of the officers: Arthur Streech, Chairman; Mrs. Bobbie Murphy, Vice-Chairman; Calvin Caldwell, Secretary; Jimmie Jones, Parliamentarian; Mrs. Clarice Cannon, Recording Secretary.

Committee reports were given by the various committee chairmen. G. G. Medders, Chairman of the Overall Economic Development Program committee, stated that the Overall Economic Development Plan had been completed and forwarded to Washington, D. C., for approval. An Overall Economic Development Plan is necessary to qualify various organizations for certain matching fund monies.

Jeff High, Chairman of the Technical Action Panel, told the group that a Rural Development Authority had been set up in Hempstead County. He reported that County Judge Orle Byers had appointed the following Hempstead County leaders to serve on the Rural Development Authority — Perry Campbell, Chairman; Sam McGill Vice-Chairman; Eldridge Formby, Sec.-Treas.; Wade Gilbert, Director; Lester Wade, Director.

A committee composed of the Executive members of the County Development Council was asked to meet and replace members of the council whose term had expired or those who had moved out of the county.

Chinese Drowned in Escape Try

MACAO (AP)—Fifteen young Chinese trying to escape from Red China drowned when their boats capsized in a storm 20 miles northeast of this Portuguese colony on the China coast, fishermen reported today.

The fishermen said a fishing junk from Macao picked up 11 survivors—10 boys and a girl.
